The official seal of James Madison University is based upon the baronial 13th-century coat of arms of the Madison family. The shape of the shield signifies its historic periods and the symbols are original. The mantling and insignia are black upon a silver shield with two black chevrons, each charged with a golden star. The torch in the crest position signifies enlightenment, and the motto, "Knowledge is Liberty," is derived from quotations by James Madison.

HONORING James Madison

James Madison University is the only university named for James Madison, the Father of the U.S. Constitution and fourth president of the United States. In many ways the connection to Mr. Madison's legacy is much deeper than the name only. As we celebrate commencement, it is important for us to bring Mr. Madison to life for our university community. Acknowledging Madison is not intended as a history lesson. We believe that understanding Madison and his achievements is understanding liberty and its foundations. If each graduate can leave this university with that awareness crowning their outstanding JMU education, then liberty can be multiplied wherever they may go. James Madison University will proudly send nearly 4,500 agents of liberty and social harmony to the Commonwealth of Virginia and throughout the world.

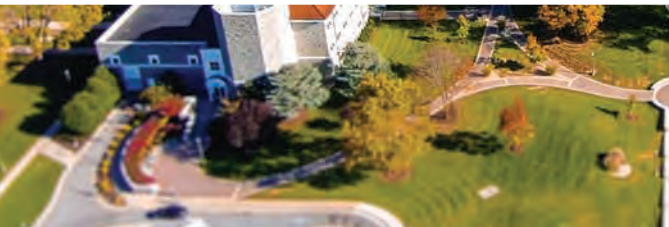

FOUNDING JAMES MADISON UNIVERSITY

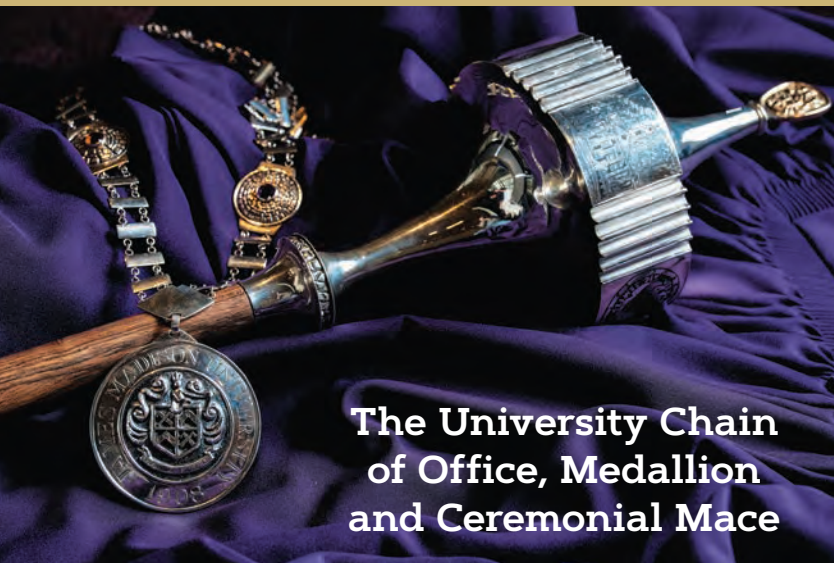

James Madison University was founded on March 14, 1908, when Virginia Gov. Claude A. Swanson signed legislation creating the State Normal and Industrial School for Women at Harrisonburg. Early in the 20th century, the General Assembly, responding to a growing interest in public higher education in Virginia, authorized the establishment of a new normal school for the education of women teachers. (“Normal” schools were so named because they were supposed to set the standard — or “norm” — for excellence.)

The idea of a new college was highly attractive to communities throughout the commonwealth. There was widespread competition in the state with 28 cities and towns making a case to be the site for the new school. State Sen. George B. Keezell and Del. P.B.F. Good of Rockingham County led the efforts for Harrisonburg in the State Senate and House of Delegates. The school began classes on Sept. 30, 1909, with an enrollment of 150 students and 15 faculty members in two buildings on a 50-acre campus. Today’s James Madison University has over 22,000 students, more than 3,800 faculty and staff, and a 785-acre campus with more than 130 buildings.

The University Chain of Office, Medallion and Ceremonial Mace

THE CHAIN OF OFFICE recognizes the authority granted to the president by the JMU Board of Visitors and the Commonwealth of Virginia to confer degrees and lead the university. The chain and medallion were created in 1999 by Ronald J. Wyanko, retired professor of art and art history. Creation of the institutional chain and medallion was made possible through a gift from the JMU Parents Council. The chain of office is made of sterling silver and two gems — a golden citrine and a purple amethyst — reflecting JMU’s school colors. One medallion is textured like bluestone to symbolize the older buildings on JMU’s campus. The other medallion features a brick texture to reflect the university’s other buildings. The university medallion that hangs from the chain features the seal of James Madison University, the university’s name and the date of its founding, 1908.

THE MACE has been used in ceremonial processions as an ensign of authority. It is carried by the marshal of the JMU Faculty Senate during all formal university processions. Funds for the mace were donated by the JMU Class of 1943. Commissioned by the JMU Faculty Senate, the mace was created by Ronald J. Wyanko, retired professor of art and art history, and first used in 1979. The mace is made of sterling silver, 14 karat gold, rosewood, and ebony. The upper node of the mace is textured to symbolize the blue limestone. The lower node represents the brick used on other buildings. The JMU crest is at the top of the mace. There are five ebony designs around the main node of the mace: President James Madison, the Seal of the Commonwealth of Virginia, a book representing the search for knowledge, the flame of eternal truth, and Wilson Hall representing the JMU campus.

TRADITION OF THE

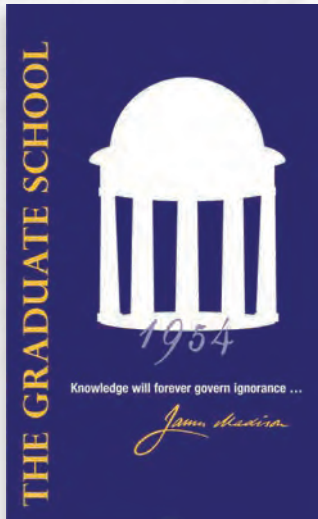

• ACADEMIC COSTUME •

THE ACADEMIC COSTUME of cap and gown worn by the faculty and students in today’s commencement had its origin in the universities of the Middle Ages. The sleeves of the gown indicate the degree held by the wearer. Closed, pointed sleeves are used for the bachelor’s gown; oblong sleeves, open at the wrist, for the master’s gown; and bell-shaped sleeves, with three velvet bars, for the doctor’s gown. For the doctoral degree, the gown has full-length velvet panels in front, either black or of a color symbolizing the wearer’s field of learning. The length of the hood also varies with the degree; the longer the hood, the more advanced the degree. The lining of the hood carries the colors of the college or university conferring the degree.

HONOR CORDS AND STOLES

Graduates are permitted to wear cords, stoles, medals and pins on their commencement gowns. These accessories typically identify students who have earned academic honors, completed university honors curriculums; or held membership in honor societies. The popularity of this practice has led other campus organizations to wear cords and/ or stoles.

The JMU Graduate School has a rich history of offering high-quality programs to serve its student body. Classes were first offered in cooperation with the University of Virginia in 1951. Initial graduate courses offered specialized teacher education programs, and the State Board of Education authorized the university to offer programs leading to the Master of Science in Education degree in 1954. The first online graduate degree program was established in 1997, and the first doctoral program in 2002. JMU now offers 29 master's degree programs leading to 53 different areas of focus, 1 Educational Specialist degree and 8 doctoral degree programs. Graduate programs are offered in each of the seven academic colleges within the university.

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

The Graduate School of James Madison University was established in 1954. The image of Mr. Madison's Temple exemplifies his intelligence, his love of the classics, natural beauty, and the useful and practical ways of men. The civic architecture, reminiscent of the ancient republic of Rome, was chosen by James Madison to symbolize his vision for the new American republic. Madison's quote that "Knowledge will forever govern ignorance; and a people who mean to be their own governors, must arm themselves with the power which knowledge gives" is at the heart of graduate education.

THE MARSHALS IN OUR CEREMONY are represented by JMU students who are part of the Centennial Scholars Program or are a First-Generation Student.

In 2024, 16% of the JMU undergraduate population will be the first person in their immediate family to earn a bachelor's degree. First-Generation students attending JMU represent every region of the Commonwealth of Virginia, demonstrating a commitment to academic achievement with optimism and perseverance. The Centennial Scholars Program is home to many talented and dedicated first-generation, Pell grant-eligible students from the Commonwealth of Virginia. The program provides academic resources, connects students to campus programs, facilitates a successful transition to college, and support students' success. Earning a college degree can alter the trajectory for an individual, family, and community. We seek to build a community dedicated to personal and professional success by empowering students to achieve their educational goals.

COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

The focal point of the flag is a globe in motion, propelled by energy as suggested by the design around it. The facets of the globe symbolize the complex and inter-connected aspects of the global business environment and the many disciplines taught within the College of Business. The energy and movement portrayed symbolize the college's influence and impact through preparing students to engage with the business world as principled leaders and professionals. Use of the academic color for business as the background anchors all in the context of business education.

Dukes from Day One. Alumni for Life.

Congratulations, Class of 2024! You've heard it since your first days on campus: Dukes from Day One, Alumni for Life.

Today you join a network of 160,000 alumni who support one another long after graduation. - Cheer on the Dukes and wear purple on Fridays!
- Keep in touch with your favorite professor.
- Update your contact information if you change jobs, address or email.
- Read the Madison Update.

JMU ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

- Visit campus: volunteer back in the classroom, attend a home game, come for your reunions, and bring your JMU friends and classmates.
- Support your alma mater on Giving Day so you too can hold the door open for the students following behind you.

I am so grateful for the many students and alumni I have met along the way and so proud to add you to the JMU Alumni Family today.

Congratulations and Go Dukes!

The bars on the lower left indicate the various roads leading to JMU. The bars toward the right edge represent the many avenues available to students graduating from the College of Education. The unbroken circle portrays education as the link between who we were and who we have become. The bars at the top and bottom of the banner symbolize lifelong learning.

The mission of University Studies is to coordinate and support campus-wide endeavors that enhance intellectual development and foster the enlightened citizenship of all undergraduates. The outreaching rays of the flag symbolize the academic projects we coordinate, which encompass the JMU campus as a whole. The scroll design, entwined throughout the University Studies name, symbolizes University Studies' role as an umbrella organization supporting interdisciplinary academic programs that intersect multiple departments and colleges.

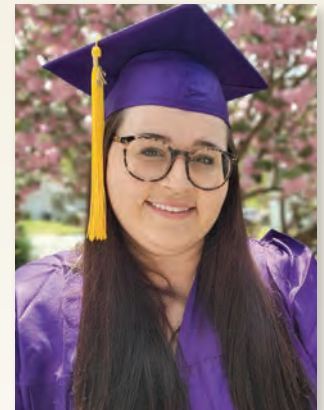

The School of Professional & Continuing Education advances JMU's vision by responding to individual, business, and community needs through transformative educational programs and experiences. The fountain symbolizes the endless knowledge that springs forth from our students into the communities where they live, work, and play. The colors of purple and gold embrace our alignment with the university. The range in shades celebrate the array of students we serve and the continuum of learning we engage with them over a lifetime.

At JMU, Cristina has worked to distinguish herself academically, presenting her undergraduate research at the Virginia Council for Exceptional Children Conference in 2023. She actively supports Breast Cancer Education and Awareness through Zeta Tau Alpha and has volunteered at My Community Place, aiding those facing homelessness in Harrisonburg. Cristina is committed to personal and community well-being, aspiring to further her education in JMU's Behavior Analyst graduate program. Her goal is to innovate in Special Education and continue to make a significant impact.

CORI PATISTAS is from Williamsburg, VA. She is graduating from the Adult Degree Program with a B.S. in Individualized Studies with a concentration in Child Development and Family & Consumer Sciences. Cori successfully managed the demands of her full-time finance career, pursued her studies as a full-time student, all while fulfilling her responsibilities as a mother. She expresses gratitude to her friends and family, in particular her husband, Matt, and her mother, Amy, for being supportive and encouraging throughout this time in her life. Among those she thanks, her 5-year-old son Grey holds a special place. His contagious joy and unwavering belief in her abilities have been a constant source of inspiration.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND BEHAVIORAL STUDIES

The College of Health and Behavioral Studies logo represents human figures that are interdependent, balanced and dynamic. The image is intentionally abstract, which encourages complex interpretations that embody many of the characteristics of CHBS. We develop interprofessional perspectives that promote collaboration and teamwork across disciplines. The fluid circular pattern reflects responsiveness to changing societal needs achieved through scientific inquiry and the development of effective practice. Raised arms bring to mind our focus on physical, mental and social well-being.

COLLEGE OF INTEGRATED SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

The Möbius strip is the symbol of the College of Integrated Science and Engineering. Its single side signifies how a variety of perspectives, both technical and non-technical, come together to help solve complicated problems. The superimposed globe represents the many scales at which we work—from local to global—and the pixelation of the continents highlight the importance of computing to the college. The colors of the flag symbolize the college's focus on sustainability.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

DR. CINDY KLEVICKIS joined the Integrated Science and Technology Department in 1994. Now, both ISAT and Dr. Klevickis are celebrating the 30th anniversary of the first ISAT student co-hort. Dr. Klevickis has taught biotechnology and many other ISAT classes. She has also taught science classes for future elementary and middle school teachers and classes in the Honors College. Dr. Klevickis serves as the JMU Professor in Residence at Huguenot High School in Richmond and as one of the Faculty Advisors for the Roop Teacher Education Learning Community. She has also promoted technology education in K-12 schools.

STUDENT SPEAKER

CISE VALEDICTORIAN LEXI KROBATH is a Computer Science major and Spanish minor from South Riding, Virginia. During her time at JMU, she was a member of the Phi Gamma Nu professional development organization, GIVE volunteers, and Upsilon Pi Epsilon honor society. She also held an on-campus job in the language department and a research position in the Geology Department. One of her favorite memories has been studying abroad in Spain during her junior year. Krobath has completed two internships during her summers and has accepted a full-time position in software development after graduation. Lexi is deeply grateful to her parents, Trish and John Krobath, for their unwavering support and guidance, and for always allowing her to choose her own path in life.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

COLLEEN WATSON is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Mathematics and Statistics. She earned a B.S. in Applied Mathematics and a M.S. in Statistics from Georgia Institute of Technology. She taught for three years at the Shenandoah Valley Governor's School, and then joined the faculty of JMU in 2004, first as an adjunct, then as a lecturer. She currently teaches a variety of introductory statistics courses. She has just finished her second year as a co-director of the madiSTEM conference which is a one-day STEM conference held at JMU designed for girls grades 6-8. Colleen is a crazy cat lady with 5 cats currently. She also has 4 daughters, 2 of which graduated from JMU.

STUDENT SPEAKER

LAURA WARRINGTON is an Earth Science major from Reston, VA. She is part of professional and honorary societies including Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Gamma Epsilon. Laura has received the Campbell Outstanding Senior in Earth Science Award and the CSM Dean's Outstanding Senior in Earth Science Award. She was in the Marching Royal Dukes Colorguard and continues to participate in activities with the band as a member and previous treasurer of the service fraternity Kappa Kappa Psi. She has found a love for caving as part of the Madison University Student Grotto. At JMU Laura does research with Paola Berrios and Dr. Scott Eaton on the impact of geologic structure on groundwater springs in the Valley and Ridge. Laura has been a teaching assistant for the last year and has loved helping in introductory and upper-level geology courses. She studied abroad in Ireland and the Bahamas, which were two highlights of her academic experience. After graduation, Laura will be working as a Physical Scientist for the United States Geological Survey. Laura is grateful for her cat, family, friends, and faculty members for all their support and guidance.

COLLEGE OF VISUAL AND PERFORMING ARTS

The College of Visual and Performing Arts flag features a graphic formed from the letters ARTS representing the intertwined nature of the visual and performing arts. The color purple—symbolizing creativity, wisdom and innovation—also anchors the college within the proud JMU traditions of excellence. Silver, a precious metal that reflects visions of the world, is also chromatically the balance point between black and white, reminding us that the creative arts give voice to many perspectives.

FACULTY SPEAKER

ERIC GUINIVAN is a composer and educator whose music is characterized by propulsive rhythmic layers, shifting harmonic fields, shimmering orchestration, and a strong sense of drive. His output includes works for orchestra, wind ensemble, choir, percussion, brass band, film, chamber ensembles, solos, and electronics. Eric's music has been featured at festivals, concerts, and conferences across the US and Europe and has received notable honors from the American Academy of Arts and Letters, BMI, ASCAP, Chamber Music America, and the Fromm Foundation, among others. A GRAMMY-nominated percussionist, Eric has performed as soloist with orchestras in California and New York and with orchestras and chamber ensembles across the country. Eric's Carnegie Hall debut in 2011 was praised by The New York Times for its "shimmering colors" and "frenetic energy." Eric studied composition and percussion at Indiana University and the University of Southern California and is Associate Professor of Composition at James Madison University.

HONORARY DEGREE

DONALD H. ALBRIGHT - MAY 2024 HONORARY DEGREE

Born in Texas, Don attended San Angelo Junior College where he worked at the local radio station, later enrolling at Northwestern University to complete a bachelor's degree in Radio Speech. He enlisted in the Air Force during the Korean War, attended Officers Candidate School and was stationed in Japan where he directed an Armed Forces Radio Station in Osaka. In 1957, Don applied to the US Information Agency and moved with his wife, Helene, to Washington, DC. He spent the next decades enriching the arts and cultural communities in which he lived including Chile, Indonesia, Mexico and two tours of Japan, while raising four children.

The Albrights retired to Mt. Jackson, then to Harrisonburg. Following Helene's passing, Don continued a friendship with retired JMU professor Earlyynn J. Miller based on their shared interests in travel, arts, and civic projects. Don served on the first Executive Advisory Council for the College of Visual and Performing Arts. A generous donor, he funds multiple JMU dance scholarships, has made significant donations to the Madison Art Collection and a legacy commitment to the School of Art, Design and Art History. He continues to actively support public art in Harrisonburg.

Honors College Graduates

THE MISSION OF THE JMU HONORS COLLEGE is to develop a diverse community of inquisitive and aspirational learners from all parts of campus through distinctive and challenging educational experiences. The Honors College recognizes graduating students who have completed a Minor in Honors Interdisciplinary Studies and those who have completed capstone projects demonstrating considerable knowledge in a field of study, a discipline, or an area of cross or interdisciplinary activity.

Students who complete the Minor in Honors Interdisciplinary Studies and participate in a culminating capstone experience earn recognition as Honors Scholars. Those who satisfactorily complete a multi-year capstone project under the direction of a faculty advisor in a declared major or minor are recognized with distinction in the capstone field. The scholarly projects that earn Honors Scholar and graduation with distinction recognitions reflect substantial research or creative work, imagination, originality, and craftsmanship.
